Who'll Be There?

Acoustical studies at two universities—Wyoming and North Carolina State—report that the six-foot distance between individuals carrying on a normal conversation on city street corners today will be reduced to half that distance by 1985 because of the rising incidence of vehicular and aircraft noise.

Oh, well. By 1985, unless air pollution is reduced faster than noise pollution increases, no one will venture out into the streets anyway.—Birmingham (Ala.) News

Why Brownbagging?

May, we are reminded by an advertisement showing a white-coated bartender standing behind a well-stocked bar, is National Tavern Month. For no special reason, this notice suggests to us a thought about brownbagging. Why does a citizen going out on the town have to hide his booze in a brown bag? Why not a red, green, blue or pink bag? A more festive bag wouldn't disguise the contents, to be sure, but it would add a little class to the occasion. Brown bags, when you get right down to it, look cheap either on or under the table.—Charleston (S.C.) News and Courier

U.S. Supreme Court Curbs Use of Police

By BARRY SCHWEID
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court has severely limited the power of police to clear the streets of "annoying" or "suspicious" persons.

In two key decisions, one Tuesday the other a week ago, the court said laws used to make arrests are invalid unless rewritten to contain "ascertainable standards."

Since vagrancy and disorderly-conduct laws usually speak in general terms, the rulings have nationwide implications. Philosophically, they also represent a hesitation in the court's drift toward conservatism under Chief Justice Warren E. Burger.

A Cincinnati ordinance struck down by a 5-3 vote Tuesday had made it a crime for three or more people to assemble on the sidewalks "and there conduct themselves in a manner annoying to persons passing by."

Justice Potter Stewart, heading the five-man majority, said the right to assemble in public for social or political purposes cannot be suspended simply because a policeman or someone else considers the gathering annoying.

"Such a prohibition, in addition," said Stewart, "contains an obvious invitation to discriminatory enforcement against those whose association together is 'annoying' because their ideas, their lifestyle or their physical appearance is resented by the majority of their fellow citizens."

Last week, the justices unanimously reversed the conviction of a Negro in Euclid, Ohio, who had been arrested when he dropped off a black woman at an all-white apartment complex early one morning and then parked on the street where he was observed by an off-duty policeman talking on a car telephone.

Though the decision did not strike down the Euclid "suspicious-persons" ordinance, the court cautioned the states that such laws must contain "ascertainable standards of guilt" to be constitutional.

POW Issue Prods Demand for War End

By DON McLEOD
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The move begun by the Nixon administration in early 1969 to publicize the prisoner-of-war issue has generated a cry for deadlined withdrawal from Vietnam.

Many of the people most directly concerned, families of the missing men, are raising a thickening demand for President Nixon to make some kind of deal with Hanoi to free the prisoners in return for a deadline for removing all U.S. troops.

The families, many of which have played major roles in spotlighting the POW issue, share Nixon's concern that he has no guarantee the prisoners would be released if he sets a date. But they are saying he should try harder.

The National League of Families of American Prisoners and Missing in Southeast Asia, a group critics have accused of serving the White House, said Tuesday Nixon should state flatly he will set a deadline for U.S. withdrawal from Vietnam if the North Vietnamese will officially commit themselves to releasing the POWs.

Nixon, in his news conference Tuesday night, indicated 'Communist refusal to guarantee such an exchange is the big hang-up.'

"It always comes down to the same thing," Nixon said. "If we end our involvement in Vietnam and set a date, they will agree to discuss prisoners, not release them."

"Now, as far as we are concerned," Nixon said, "we at this time are not going to make any kind of agreement with regard to prisoners that is not going to be followed by action or concurrent with action; from the standpoint of the North Vietnamese we have yet no indication whatever that they would be willing to release prisoners in the event that we took certain steps."

Here's Fanciful Tale of 5 Pairs of Hose and Ailing Computer

By LOUISE COOK
Associated Press Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Dear Department Store:

You do not owe me $18.55. I know you think you do, but it's all a computer error.

The trouble started six months ago with an order for five pair of stockings—to be charged and sent, please.

Three weeks after the order date the stockings hadn't arrived and I spoke to your kind representatives in the hosiery department, the shipping department and the adjustments department.

They didn't know what had happened to the stockings either, but they rejected a suggestion that they simply pack up five more pair and ship them out again.

It seems there's a 10-day period during which the adjustments department adjusts to the idea that it's lost and order and tries to track it down.

Right on schedule, 10 days later, you called me and reported that, yes indeed, the stockings had vanished. You'd send another order.

In the interim, however, a bill had arrived. You said: "Pay the bill and we'll credit you later."

I said: "Send me the stockings and I'll pay you later."

Hijacked Jetliner Released by Cuba After 90-Hour Delay

MIAMI (AP) — Communist Cuba released a hijacked Pan American jet after a record 90-hour delay today and the Boeing 707 with 68 persons aboard landed at Miami International Airport.

The Caracas-to-Miami flight was diverted Saturday when a young Venezuelan commandeer the aircraft. Word came from Cuba that the skyjacker was armed with nothing more than a fingernail clipper.

Havana Radio—official voice of Fidel Castro's regime—identified the skyjacker as Ivan Gustavo Landaeta, 22, and quoted him as saying the clippers were his only weapon.

The broadcast said the hijack had been pulled off for idealistic reasons, that Landaeta was disenchanted with what he called the "repressive policies" of the Venezuelan government.

He charged North American imperialists with taking the basic assets of Venezuela and the Venezuelan government with repression aimed at students.

The broadcast made no reference to four Cuban fishermen held at Key West on federal charge they violated U.S. territorial waters.

Earlier in the week, there was speculation Castro might be holding the jet and its passengers until the fishermen were freed. However, the State Department later said there was no connection.

Tax Break Fails to Lift Economy

By BILL NEIKIRK
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon's effort to spur business investment with a multibillion-dollar tax break plan has failed to produce results, according to a government survey.

The study shows businessmen expect to increase spending for new plant and equipment by 2.7 per cent this year to $81.8 billion, smallest rise in a decade and a sharp falloff from last year's 5.5-per-cent boost.

Nixon attempted to perk up business investment earlier this year by offering industry a $3-billion-a-year tax break through faster tax writeoffs for depreciating equipment and machinery.

He still hasn't set a date for putting the plan into effect, but he apparently figured the very announcement of the proposal would produce an upturn in business investment.

The President said the proposal was designed to create jobs, expand the economy and bring help to one of the weakest sectors of the economy, business spending.

The latest survey was taken in late April and early May, more than three months after Nixon proposed the depreciation changes.

An earlier survey, taken just after Nixon proposed the tax break, indicated businessmen would step up their capital spending by 4.3 per cent this year.

Bruggeman Heads Safety Department

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Harold W. Bruggeman of Hot Springs was sworn in Tuesday as director of the new Department of Public Safety.

Bruggeman, who retired to Hot Springs in 1970 after 27 years with the FBI, will head a department that consists of the State Police, the State Militia, the Arkansas Wing of the Civil Air Patrol, the state Law Enforcement Training Academy and the Enforcement Division of the Alcoholic Beverage Control Commission.

Bruggeman was appointed April 29 by Gov. Dale Bumpers to head the agency, one of the 13 principal departments created by the governmental reorganization plan.

The 50-year-old Bruggeman told newsmen that he anticipated making no sweeping changes immediately in the State Police. "A sweeping change initially is a mistake," he said.

New School Plan for Forrest City

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Forrest City School District has been ordered by the 8th U. S. Circuit Court of Appeals to draft a new school desegregation plan in line with the latest U.S. Supreme Court ruling.

The order from the court in St. Louis was filed Tuesday with the U.S. District Court in Little Rock. It applies to elementary grades.

The directive countermands a ruling issued last year by federal District Court Judge Oren Harris, who had approved last year geographic zones drafted for Forrest City.

Corona Goes to Trial on Mass Murders

YUBA CITY, Calif. (AP) — Juan Corona pleaded innocent today to charges that he murdered 10 of 23 transients and migrant farm workers found hacked to death and buried in orchard graves near here.

The word was relayed to reporters by Dist. Atty. G. Dave Teja immediately after the 30-minute-long closed arraignment in the Sutter County courthouse, which was sealed off to keep the public and press out.

Judge J. J. Hankins scheduled a preliminary hearing June 16 to decide whether Corona, 37-year-old farm labor contractor, should be held for Superior Court trial.

"Not guilty on all counts," Teja said on emerging from the courtroom.

Corona was hustled into the courthouse by a squad of plainclothes sheriff deputies.

Judge J. J. Hankins ordered the arraignment behind closed doors at the request of Van den Heuvel, who declined to say publicly why he requested the closed session.

Corona is a farm labor contractor who supplied workers to ranches including the one on which 21 bodies were found hacked and stabbed to death. He is married and the father of four daughters.

He is being held in the Yuba County jail at Marysville, about two miles from the arraignment site, the Yuba City courthouse. Yuba City and Marysville, "twin cities" with a total population of about 25,000, are separated by the Feather River.

Sheriff Roy Whiteaker, who has rigidly enforced Judge Hankins' rule, forbidding release of details about evidence and the investigation, said a wide-ranging search by a dozen men unearthed no additional bodies Tuesday. The 23rd was found Saturday.

"I believe there are bodies out there that will never be found," Whiteaker said. He said some graves may be permanently hidden because "the ground has been plowed, disced, irrigated and replowed."

Extension Granted on Cossatot

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The 8th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals has granted the Justice Department 30 more days in which to file an appeal in the suit challenging the construction of a dam on the Cossatot River near DeQueen.

Federal District Judge G. Thomas Eisele of Little Rock had ordered the U. S. Army Corps of Engineers to halt construction of the dam on Feb. 19 until the Engineers filed a comprehensive environmental impact statement with him and the federal Environmental Protection Agency.

Tuesday had been the deadline for the appeal.

3 Vocational Schools Coming Up

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Three secondary and three post-secondary vocational-technical schools will be built in the state during the next year, according to J. M. Adams, state director for vocational-technical education.

Adams made the announcement during a public hearing at which the state vocational education plan for the coming year was presented.

About 30 people attended the hearing, which is required under federal law to qualify for federal aid for vocational-technical education.

Adams said that only three applications have been received so far for the proposed secondary schools. He said they were from Texarkana, Russellville and Conway.

390,000 Wiretaps Reported in U.S. for Full Year 1970

By JAMES PHILLIPS
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Federal and state authorities eavesdropped on 390,681 private conversations involving at least 29,558 individuals through telephone taps and hidden microphones last year, court records disclose.

The conversations monitored in apartments, businesses, pay phones, automobiles, parking lots and streets resulted in 1,912 arrests, the same records show.

The summary of court-approved wiretaps and listening devices is detailed in a 128-page report by the administrative office of the U.S. Courts.

Applications for intercepts doubled last year to 597, compared with 293 in 1969, and none was turned down by state or federal judges, the report said.

Federal authorities were granted permission to place 183 taps or microphones last year to listen to 146,105 conversations involving 10,248 persons. State and local police listened secretly to 244,576 conversations involving 19,310 persons.

The most federal activity was listed in Michigan where agents monitored 22,526 conversations. Next in line were New Jersey, with 22,244 intercepts; Pennsylvania, 21,007; New York, 17,021; and California, 15,676.

Among state and local authorities, New York led the list with 204,057 conversations monitored. New Jersey authorities overheard another 34,161.

No state or county authorities in Pennsylvania, Michigan or California reported placing taps or microphones.

Many of the intercepts resulted in no arrests. In South Carolina, for example, the Department of Justice reported it spent $17,449 to overhear 1,717 phone conversations involving 125 persons but made no arrests.

Rogers in Lisbon Plans Atlantic Meet

LISBON (AP) — Secretary of State William P. Rogers conferred today with aides and allies in preparation for the semi-annual meeting of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization on Thursday and Friday.

The highlight was the dinner session tonight which the foreign ministers of the United States, Britain, France and West Germany always hold on the eve of the NATO meeting to discuss German problems.

West German Foreign Minister Walter Scheel was expected to urge Rogers to go slow in any negotiations with the Soviet Union to reduce troops in Europe until a satisfactory agreement on West Berlin is reached.

The Soviets now say they want talks on cutting troop levels, something the Western allies proposed three years ago.

Nixon Would Turn Back 5 Billions

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon's $5 billion revenue sharing plan is a vote-getting device and perhaps unconstitutional, congressional critics told Treasury Secretary John Connally today.

Connally ran into a shower of critical questions as he opened the administration's case before the House Ways and Means Committee.

Chairman Wilbur D. Mills, D-Ark., told the administration spokesman as he finished his main presentation, "I want to congratulate you on making a very fine statement in behalf of a very weak cause."

Rep. Martha W. Griffiths, D-Mich., focused on the formula for distributing the federal revenues that would be diverted to states and cities, contending especially that the big cities whose residents pay much of the federal income tax load would be short-changed.

"I think you should put the money where the need is," Mrs. Griffiths said. "This formula is a political formula, guaranteed to get the vote of every town and county official in America."

Connally argued back that "the big central cities would get more per capita than the little towns."

The question of constitutionality was raised by the senior Republican member of the committee, Rep. John W. Byrnes of Wisconsin. Citing the Supreme Court decision that struck down the depression-period National Recovery Administration, Byrnes said he doubts that Congress, charged with the general welfare of the whole country, could constitutionally turn over control of part of the general funds to states and localities.

Mills has said with uncharacteristic bluntness he doesn't expect the panel to let the administration's prime fiscal measure through.

"Why should we be afraid of change?" Connally said in his prepared testimony. "The present system of federal aid to states and localities clearly is not meeting our needs. It is not likely to do so in its present form."

"I urge you to take that positive nonpartisan action that can make revenue sharing a reality," said Connally, former Texas governor and the only Democrat in the Nixon cabinet.

The secretary, the administration's only witness on the revenue-sharing bill, said suggested alternatives, ranging from tax credits to federal assumption of welfare costs, are all inferior to Nixon's plans.

Rain Forecast Through Thursday

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
A slight chance of thunderstorms will continue in the Arkansas forecast through Thursday.

The availability of moisture in the form of southerly winds and Arkansas' proximity to a stationary front in Nebraska and Missouri makes the thunderstorms a possibility.

The greatest chance of precipitation is in the western portion of the state.

Besides the thunderstorms, the forecast calls for partly cloudy skies and continued warm temperatures.

Highs Tuesday ranged from 81 at Harrison to 90 at Texarkana. Slightly warmer readings were expected today and Thursday and highs in the low 90s in several areas.

New Hope for Soviet-U.S. Arms Pact

By LEWIS GULICK
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon's disclosure that the first U.S.-Soviet strategic arms-curb deal may produce an "understanding" on offensive weapons along with an antiballistic-missile treaty narrows the focus on what may come initially from the super-power talks.

Nixon's news conference comment Tuesday night indicated he expects to send to the Senate a full-fledged treaty if an ABMs accord emerges from the U.S.-Soviet strategic arms limitation talks (SALT).

An "understanding," which he said might be used for an initial agreement on offensive-weapons restraint, would be less formal. Unlike a treaty, it would not have to be presented to the Senate for a constitutionally required two-thirds vote.

One form of "understanding" could be a U.S.-Soviet statement. Washington particularly wants to limit Russia's big SS9 rockets. U.S. ABMs are supposed to protect intercontinental missiles from a first strike by such Soviet offensive weapons.

Thus U.S. negotiators expect when the SALT parley resumes at Helsinki next month to concentrate on an ABMs deal to be tied in with a limit on land-based offensive missiles.

Nixon was asked about the form of a possible agreement in light of the May 20 U.S.-Soviet announcement which left unclear just how defensive and offensive weapons would be dealt with, including any link between the two.

Nixon said that while it is too early to know yet, the ABM might be covered by a treaty. Offensive-weapons curbs are more complex because there are missile, bomber and nuclear submarines systems, he said, and the May 20 statement applied to only some of them.

The initial emphasis was much broader when SALT first got under way in 1969.

Nixon spoke then of discussing "limitations on all of offensive and defensive systems" in an effort to halt the nuclear race. Secretary of State William P. Rogers said he expected SALT's results to be in treaty form, though he left open the possibility of lower-level accords.

NAACP Asks Probe of Russ Death

PINE BLUFF, Ark. (AP) — Dr. Jerry Jewell of North Little Rock, president of the NAACP, said Tuesday that he had asked the Justice Department in Washington to investigate the fatal shooting of Carmel Russ, 28, of Monticello.

Pros. Atty. Joe Holmes of Pine Bluff said Russ was fatally shot by Star City Marshal Charles Ratliff at the city jail Monday night.

Holmes said a grand jury investigation into the shooting would be held Thursday or Friday.

Holmes said that Ratliff apparently shot Russ, who is black, while Russ was paying a fine or while he was being jailed.

N. Vietnam Angered by POW Report

PARIS (AP) — North Vietnam charged today that South Vietnam's offer to release sick and wounded North Vietnamese prisoners of war was a "sham proposal."

A statement by a North Vietnamese government spokesman here accused South Vietnam and the United States of having "pretended" that only 13 of the group wanted to go to the North. The spokesman said this was a "vile and cynical maneuver" which "has amazed public opinion and the press."

Nguyen Thanh Le, the spokesman, added, "It should be pointed out that they—Saigon and Washington—have never been sincere in freeing captive patriots."

U.S. and South Vietnamese officials have said only 13 of the 647 prisoners who were asked if they wanted to be repatriated have agreed to go in the return operation scheduled for Friday. Foreign Minister Tran Van Lam of South Vietnam said in Saigon most who refused to go feared reprisals from the Communists.

"A great many of them don't want to do," Lam told news-men. "That means they really have enjoyed their stay in South Vietnam and don't want to return."

"Most who want to stay dread reprisal, that there might be violence against them. They seem to have enjoyed better treatment in South Vietnam, and the security situation here."

But Lam refused to explain how the Saigon government knew the prisoners' reasons for refusing repatriation. They were interrogated by Red Cross representatives with no South Vietnamese officials present.

The prisoners will be handed over to the North Vietnamese Friday at sea off the demilitarized zone between North and South Vietnam. A 24-hour truce will be in effect in the area.

Hearings will be open to the public and will be in the governor's conference room at the Capitol.

Aluminum Hike Triggers Other Demands

By NEIL GILBRIDE
AP Labor Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — White House disappointment over a three-year, 30 per cent wage settlement for aluminum workers could grow progressively deeper if contracts for 1.2 million workers in other key industries follow a similar pattern.

Union demands for wage hikes as big or larger already have been promised by union leaders in steel, coal, copper and telephone industries where contracts expire over the next few months.

White House press secretary Ronald L. Ziegler expressing President Nixon's unhappiness over the aluminum wage agreement, Tuesday issued the administration's second tough warning that a big settlement in the much larger steel industry could hurt companies, workers and the economy.

Nixon started off his administration saying he would not use "jawboning" tactics to try curbing wage or price hikes, but the big disputes coming up could loosen the presidential jawbone. But Ziegler said, for now, "That's all we can do."

The President did not comment on the issue at his Tuesday night news conference.

President I.W. Abel of the AFL-CIO United Steelworkers union which negotiated the aluminum contract and is bargaining agent for nearly 500,000 workers in the crucial big steel talks, already has accused Nixon of intervening on the industry side. Abel also has said Nixon may plan such stiff action as attempting to impose compulsory arbitration on the union.

Aluminum workers averaged $3.60 per hour before the new wage pact, and steel workers now average $3.45. Politically, it would be difficult for Abel's union to take a lesser wage settlement for steelworkers than for aluminum workers.

The Steelworkers union also is dominant among unions that will negotiate new agreements for more than 100,000 workers in mining, refining and fabricating copper, lead and zinc.

The average wage now, reached after a nine-month industry-wide strike three years ago, is $3.25.

Another major set of negotiations coming to a head involve the Communications Workers and the nationwide Bell Telephone System, covering nearly 500,000 workers.

Arkansas Methodists Beat Merger

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP) —The North Arkansas Conference of the United Methodist Church Tuesday turned down a proposal to merge with the Southwest Annual Conference.

The Little Rock and Oklahoma conference had previously turned down the merger proposal.

The conference adopted a resolution which called the plan "unacceptable and unconstitutional" and asked for a committee to work out another plan for merger which the conference hope can be implemented in a special session prior to the 1972 General Conference.

The proposed merger plan involved the Southwest Annual Conference, composed of Negro churches in Arkansas and Oklahoma, with the three white conferences in the two states.

San Diego Pressured for GOP Meet

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP) — Under pressure reportedly direct from the White House, San Diego is offering itself as a possible site for the 1972 national convention of the Republicans.

The city 70 miles south of President Nixon's summer home at San Clemente earlier turned down a proposal by Democrats that it bid for their party's convention. The main objection cited by city officials: too few rooms at the height of the tourist season.

But officials in the Nixon administration, in town for other purposes, have quietly been looking over the Sports Arena and pressuring the city to make a bid.

A "command performance" is the way City Manager Walter Hahn puts it. The City Council authorized Hahn last Friday to notify the Republican National Committee of San Diego's interest and a spokesman said the gathering could be accommodated because "it

Gen. Donaldson Accused in Atrocities

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Army said today charges have been preferred against Brig. Gen. John W. Donaldson, accusing him of murder and assault involving eight Vietnamese civilians.

The Associated Press learned a formal announcement was due within a few hours at Ft. Meade, Md., where Donaldson now is assigned.

Donaldson, until recently a top planner for the Joint Chiefs of Staff, is the highest ranking officer accused of killing civilians in the Vietnam war.

The 47-year-old West Point graduate also is the first U.S. general charged with a war crime since the Philippine insurrection 70 years ago.

The Army said the incidents on which the charges are based took place between November 1968 and January 1969 in Quang San Province, where the My Lai massacre occurred the previous March.

Donaldson, then a colonel, commanded the 11th Infantry Brigade, which included 1st Lt. William L. Calley's platoon at the time of the My Lai massacre. However, Donaldson did not take over the brigade until October 1968, more than six months after My Lai. Calley has been sentenced to a life term for murdering civilians at My Lai.

No details of the Donaldson case were provided, but sources said an investigation was started after statements were made by a helicopter pilot attached to the 11th Brigade during the period. He was not Donaldson's personal pilot, the sources said. His name was withheld.

At one point in the official statement, it was understood, the Army planned to use the word "alleged" in referring to the eight Vietnamese civilians because an issue in the case is likely to be whether they were Viet Cong fighters.

Johnson Joins Boom for Mills

CONWAY, Ark. (AP) — Jim Johnson of Conway, a former state Supreme Court justice and unsuccessful gubernatorial candidate, said Tuesday that he would support Rep. Wilbur D. Mills, D-Ark., for president.

Johnson, who backed George Wallace for president in 1968, said the nation was on the verge of bankruptcy and Mills was the only man who could save the economic system.

Mills said that he was "elated" that anyone from Arkansas would express such strong support for him.

Johnson conceded that his political past was controversial and said that if his activity in Mills' behalf would be more detrimental than helpful, then he said he would "confine his activities to putting up signs or sweeping out his headquarters."

Mills said he was happy to receive Johnson's support and the support of many others who have urged him to seek the presidency, but he still maintained he was not a candidate.

will be an uncontested convention."

Already active contenders for the August convention are Chicago, San Francisco, Houston and Miami Beach. San Francisco, which San Diego is overtaking as California's most populous city outside Los Angeles, was host to the Democrats in 1920 and the Republicans in 1956 and 1965. Los Angeles was the Democratic National Convention site in 1960, but such a gathering never has been held in San Diego.

The conditions of bidding include about 15,000 first-class hotel and motel rooms, convention halls, meeting rooms and an $800,000 guarantee. Director Bob Gaddis of the convention bureau said the 13,000-seat Sports Arena and 55,000-seat Stadium would do the job, and the San Diego Hotel & Motel Association said enough rooms would be made available. Earlier, the motel owners said they opposed either convention in San Diego.

Gordon Lucel Republican state vice chairman, says, "Our climate in August may swing it."

Luce said he believes Nixon would like to see a San Diego convention showing "a Republican contrast to what happened in Chicago" at the 1968 Democratic convention.

Revenue-Sharing Vote Due Today

By JAY PERKINS
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — House Democratic leaders lined up their forces today for a head-to-head battle with President Nixon over his revenue-sharing plan with their hopes for victory hinging on Southern members.

House Speaker Carl Albert, has billed today's vote on a Democratic-sponsored alternative to the manpower training section of Nixon's revenue-sharing proposal as one of the year's most important.

The showdown resulted from a surprise victory two weeks ago by a Republicans-Southern Democratic coalition that forced Nixon's $2-billion manpower revenue-sharing plan to the floor despite leadership opposition.

House leaders then pulled back their alternative proposal until today in hopes of converting the 45 Democrats who supported Nixon's bill.

The willingness of Albert to bring the jobs bill up for debate Tuesday when members still were straggling back from a long holiday weekend indicated he was confident enough defectors switched to reverse the May 18 setback.

Rep. Wilbur D. Mills, D-Ark., chairman of the House Ways and Means Committee and an arch foe of revenue sharing, worked to line up the Southerners.

He was fought by Rep. William M. Colmer, D-Miss., the 83-year-old chairman of the Rules Committee who pulled off the coalition's surprise two weeks ago.

Colmer reportedly delivered the Southern votes after Republicans promised to help him defeat a bill to strengthen the power of the Equal Employment Opportunity Commission to deal with job discrimination.

The Democratic proposal would cost $5-billion and would create hundreds of thousands of jobs over the next five years in schools, hospitals, parks and other areas of public service.

Nixon's proposal would increase by one-third the money now spent on these programs, eliminate state and local matching funds and "trigger" extra federal funds to counteract periods of rising unemployment.

Post 92

On Monday, May 24, Explorer Post 92 President Larry Patton and Vice President Jackie Harrington left for Altus AFB, Oklahoma with M-Sgt. Albert H. Patton to set up a camp site for the rest of the Post. Wednesday afternoon they were joined by Frankie Roy, Paul, Naida, Scott and Tracy Patton who were driven out by Mrs. Patton. Wednesday night they were treated to a steak cookout but the campsite suffered in Wednesday night's storm so other arrangements were made.

On Thursday, they ate all their meals in the Air Force Dining hall and then were taken on a tour of the base stockade by Supervisor, T-Sgt. Law. He explained to them about types of confinement and punishment. Then they went on a tour of the sentry dog kennels where they saw a dog put through his training and met Chris, the marijuna dog. They then spent most of the day riding patrol with the base police and were able to do everything but write tickets and use the radio.

Friday morning after breakfast in the dining hall, they went to the base service club in full uniform to witness the retirement ceremony of M-Sgt. Patton after 20 years in the Air Force. They saluted the colors to the Star Spangled Banner just prior to Sgt. Patton's receiving the Medal for Meritorious Service. This was Sgt. Patton's 20th medal received during his Air Force career—his highest being the Bronze Star. After receiving his retirement certificate, Sgt. Patton and his guests were treated to cake and coffee.

They then left for Hope with a stop in Nocona for a tour of the Nocona Boot Factory. They Miss Rita Dillingham of Monroe, La., as maid of honor, wore a lilac cotton dress and a corsage of pastel blossoms. The best man was Bruce Seller.

The bride's mother wore a dress of yellow knit and the bridegroom's mother, an orchid knit dress. They wore orchid corsages.

An informal reception was held following the ceremony. After the reception, the couple left for San Diego, Calif., where they will make their home while the bridegroom is stationed there with the United States Navy.

Kids Looking Forward to Julie Nixon as Teacher Next Fall

By F. T. MACFEELY
Associated Press Writer
ATLANTIC BEACH, Fla. (AP) — What do the small fry at Atlantic Beach elementary school think about Julie Nixon Eisenhower and the fact she may be their teacher next fall? Their reactions range from "she will be pretty" to "she will be normal."

Principal Sam Bailey made the class available for a brief interview on the subject and the third graders who may have Mrs. Eisenhower in the fourth grade seem to be happy about it.

"I want to tell her to tell her father that our country is proud of him," said Martha Ann Lyon. But Colette Guernthe Socialist party and later as vice chairman of the Liberal party in New York.

"The whole art of politics consists in directing rationally the irrationalities of men," he said.

A Lutheran in background, Dr. Niebuhr retired from Union Theological Seminary in 1960 after 32 years on the faculty, but continued his writings that included more than 20 books.

In discussing subjects that ranged from race relations to trade unionism to foreign affairs, he did not attempt to offer neat solutions but stressed "Christian realism."

He defined the concept as a recognition that in the complexities of modern life, clear-cut "right" decision become ever more difficult and sometimes impossible, requiring instead that approximate, rather than absolute, answers be obtained by public questions.

Here, he argued, public morality differed from private morality. "Individuals are never as immoral as the social situations in which they are involved and which they symbolize, since collective groups don't have the individual's capacity for self transcendence or sensitivity to needs of others."

Monroe, La., as maid of honor, wore a lilac cotton dress and a corsage of pastel blossoms. The best man was Bruce Seller.

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — "First Tuesday," NBC's news-magazine, took an over-all and cautious look in this month's edition at current controversy over the Federal Bureau of Investigation. The inspection seemed more accusatory in tone than in content.

The segment, which occupied almost half of the two-hour program, opened with a view of the architect's plus some speculation it might be called the "J. Edgar Hoover memorial."

Host Garrick Utley observed that Hoover, director for 47 years, "Is the FBI" of "sacrosanct image," but that now the bureau's critics are speaking up.

Two disaffected former FBI men were heard from. One said he was transferred to Montana after his superiors learned of his critical remarks in an analysis of bureau activities. The thrust of the program was on investigations of private citizens, of members of left-of-center political organizations. The program showed photostats of some records of investigations allegedly stolen last March from the FBI's Media, Pa., office.

The segment was balanced—the defense was primarily by Rep. John J. Rooney, D-N.Y., a long time admirer of the bureau and its director.

In general, the hour contained little that had not been thoroughly explored in print. It covered the same ground as last week's "Advocates" on the public broadcasting stations, although the simpler form of the NBC program made the points a little clearer.

Another long—perhaps too long—segment concerned international weapons selling, a huge profitable business involving independent salesmen and governments alike.

The brisk trade ranges from bullets to aircraft carriers, with many of today's weapons peddlers working directly for their governments.

It was a rather thorough examination, with some of ironies pointed up—Pakistan and Indian, for instance, fighting each other with weapons supplied by a mutual friend, the United States.

It was a substantial two hours but pretty slow going most of the time.

President Nixon's half-hour news conference earlier in the evening caused little disruption of network schedules. NBC preempted a repeat of "The Bill Cosby Show" to start a repeat of "The Don Knotts Show" a half hour early. The other two networks merely shoved scheduled shows back a half hour.

WEDDING QUESTIONS, MODERN STYLE

Dear Helen:
Please settle an argument. I say the bridesmaids help the bride change her clothes after the wedding. My friend said the groom should. Who's right?—B.B.

Dear B.:
Traditionally, the bridesmaids and bride's mother and sisters help her change into going-away clothes, while the bridegroom gets an assist from his best man. With all that champagne etc., this seems the more efficient way...and it also gives Mama an opportunity for one last good cry.—H.

Dear Helen:
Our daughter, 25, has been living with this man for three years. Several times they "almost" got married, but he backed out. Privately, we were glad because he's a sponger who will still be going to college when he's 45—as a way to avoid work. With the advancement of her career (as a chemist) we had hoped she would outgrow him.

Well, he started bringing another girl to their apartment while our daughter was at her job. When she discovered them, she made an ultimatum: marriage or move out.

He chose marriage (why give up a meal ticket and free lodging?). Last night, they stopped in to show off her ring—which she had bought.

Today a friend asked, "When are you going to give the reception?" She thinks that inasmuch as we were "deprived" of planning a wedding, we should go all-out on engraved announcements, a big party, etc.

Is this necessary, Helen? It's bad enough having him as a son-in-law. I really don't see why we must welcome him publicly.—UNHAPPY PARENTS.

Dear Parents:
... Nor do I.
Why play the hypocrite when you'd much rather celebrate your daughter's divorce?—H.

Dear Helen:
That was a great letter from the maternity home director. She will not only help women bring more unwanted children into this over-crowded world but she may even become the director of a chain of homes.

I agree on one point: abortion alone is not the answer. Neither is having the baby. Prevention—contraception—family planning BEFORE it starts: these would eliminate the need for abortions and homes.

It's all very well to help a girl in trouble, but criminal to send her home without information and equipment which will prevent her from coming back. As for the "waiting list" on adoptions. True, there is a demand for Anglo-Saxon babies. But what of the non-Caucasians and the children over a year old? Are they not human, too?

Birth control information should be available to anyone who needs it. Human nature being as it is, the need is great indeed!—Dr. B.H.B.

Dear Dr. B.:
Birth control information IS available (through Planned Parenthood Organizations and other counseling services—including obstetricians who deliver unwanted children). Also certain States offer Welfare-financed tubal ligatures (sterilizations) after a woman has had two or more "accidental" pregnancies. (She often says "No.")

But—human nature being as it is, "prevention" frequently comes as an after-thought. Only when we perfect a readily available pill to match, will the need for maternity homes and abortions be eliminated. (And even then, not entirely.)—H.

Ali-Ellis Bout Set for July

By BRUCE LOWITT
Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — Four years ago Muhammad Ali was heavyweight champion of the world and Jimmy Ellis was his sparring partner.

When the title was taken away from Ali for his refusal to accept military service, Ellis battled his way to the World Boxing Association's version of the crown—before losing it to current champ Joe Frazier.

Today the two former champs from Louisville, Ky., both aiming for another shot at Frazier, will announce that they'll go against each other first, reportedly in a closed-circuit bout July 26 at the Houston Astrodome.

A spokesman for Bob Arum, president of Top Rank, Inc., said today's noon news conference, with Ali and Ellis present, would finalize "a major fight," but declined to give details. Last Thursday, however, Ali jumped the gun by saying he would meet Ellis in seven weeks.

Arum has been involved in the closed-circuit televising of several heavyweight championship bouts and Top Rank handled the Ali-Oscar Bonavena fight last Dec. 7 at Madison Square Garden.

All won that one with a 15th-round knockout—but lost his bid to regain his championship when Frazier won a unanimous 15-round decision March 8 at the Garden.

Ellis, at 31 two years older than his long-time friend Ali, won the WBA share of the heavyweight crown on April 27, 1968 with a victory over Jerry Quarry.

But Frazier owned the rest of it, recognized as champion by New York and several other states. He finally settled the issue Feb. 16, 1970, stopping Ellis in five rounds.

Since then, however, Ellis has won three straight bouts against Roberto Davila, Irish Tony Doyle and Canadian champion George Chuvalo.

Petty May Be NASCAR's Millionaire

DAYTONA BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Stock car superstar Richard Petty may become the NASCAR Grand National circuit's first millionaire by the Fourth of July.

The 33-year-old Randleman, N.C., Plymouth driver has earned an extra $100,000 for winning the first leg of the Winston Cup point standings and how has $962,648 for a 13-year career.

Petty trounced Ford independent James Hulton of Inman, S.C., who collected $5,000 as runnerup in the cup standings.

Petty has earned $133,740 in 1971, his fourth $100,000-plus season in the past five years, and plans to challenge for big purses in June NASCAR events at Dover, Del., Irish Hills, Mich. and Riverside, Calif.

If he doesn't make the million circle sooner, Petty will have a shot at one of the tour's largest payoffs in the Fire-cracker 400 on July 4 at Daytona International Speedway.

Hulton scored 1,624 points to Petty's 1,730 and has earned $27,630 this year. Cecil Gordon of Arden, N.C., was third at 1,532; Elmo Langley, Landover, Md., had 1,499; Benny Parsons, Detroit, 1,373; Bobby Allison, Hueytown, Ala., 1,358; and Jabe Thomas, Christiansburg, Va., 1,268.

Pittsburgh New Power in Pitching

By KEN RAPPOPORT
Associated Press Sports Writer
Pittsburgh's swashbuckling pitchers have been leaving their mark on National League hitters ... the Mark of Zero.

"It's quite a feat," boasted Pittsburgh interim Manager Bill Virdon, referring to three straight shutouts and 30 consecutive scoreless innings by the Pirates' new-found strong-arm staff.

It is quite a feat—for Pittsburgh. Before Dock Ellis silenced St. Louis 9-0 on three hits Tuesday night, the last time the Pirates put three shutouts together was in 1958 with Ron Kline, Vernon Law and Bob Friend.

Before Ellis pitched his beauty, Bob Moose and Steve Blass spun consecutive shutouts over Chicago.

The victory was the fifth straight for Ellis, who is "on the verge" of becoming one of the best pitchers in the majors, according to Virdon.

The Houston Astros nipped the Atlanta Braves 7-6, the Los Angeles Dodgers 5-2 and the New York Mets beat the San Francisco Giants 5-4 in the National League's other games Tuesday.

Ellis didn't overpower the hot Cardinals as he halted their seven-game winning streak, but nevertheless had them under control.

"You don't have to strike out anybody to win in this game," said Ellis, who struck out four in the seventh game in 10 decisions. "I used to think I was a fast ball pitcher. No more. My ball is a moving ball."

Dr. William O. Reed, one of the veterinarians who has looked and started to use a sinker after the Kentucky-bred colt since his arrival here. "Don't worry about that."

Canonero II has been afflicted with a skin rash and an infected right hind foot, but the Red said the rash has all but disappeared and the foot infection is responding to treatment.

Baptista, a Venezuelan industrialist, said five groups from the United States, and one each from Venezuela, Japan and England have bid to buy Canoneiro II.

"We are listening to the various offers both as to money and conditions," said Baptista. "I hope to retain shares in the colt later, which lost its 11th in 13 whom I believe has great potential at stud."

Even if the colt is not sold in his country, Baptista said, he will be available to the best mares in Venezuela, adding that he felt Canoneiro II would have the best opportunity as a stallion in the United States because of the mares that would be available.

3 Americans in French Open Tennis Match

PARIS (AP) — Arthur Ashe meets Frank Froehling today in an all-American quarter-final in the French Open Tennis Tournament.

Stan Smith, of Pasadena, Calif., the only other American left in the final 8, meets Ilie Nastase of Romania. Smith is seeded No. 6. Nastase, generally rated one of the top three in the world on clay courts, is seeded No. 3.

Ashe, of Gum Springs, Va., admits that he's playing here for the prestige, rather than the money. The top prize in the French Open is $10,000. But Ashe says he could stay in New York and make more money than playing here in a two-week tournament.

Donald Dell, a former U.S.

Davis Cup captain and lawyer who handles the business affairs of a half dozen top American players, said "Arthur made $241,000 last year. Within two years he will have made one million dollars. We have six big long term deals and my problem now is to limit his commitments so that he has time to play tennis."

Froehling is from ...

Nicklaus Is Ranked Big Favorite

By BOB GREEN

Associated Press Golf Writer

ATLANTA (AP) — Jack Nicklaus, easily the dominant figure in the game, ranked as a strong favorite today for the first prize in the $125,000 Atlanta Golf Classic.

Nicklaus, who has made only nine previous starts this year, has been out of action the last three weeks and is making his last competitive appearance before the United States Open in Ardmore, Pa., June 17-20.

Even with his restricted schedule, Nicklaus easily ranks as the premier performer for the season. He's the only three-time winner, is the leading money winner with more than $131,000 and has taken down the first prize in his last two starts—the rich Tournament of Champions and the Byron Nelson Classic.

The powerful, 31-year-old superstar, who has spent most of the last three weeks coaching his son's Little League baseball team in Florida, wasn't scheduled to arrive until today.

Lee Trevino, another top contender in the 72-hole chase that begins Thursday on the hill, 6,883-yard, par-72 Atlanta Country Club course, also was scheduled for a late arrival.

Trevino, who scored his second victory of the season last week with an easy triumph in the Danny Thomas Memphis Classic, is the No. 2 money winner of the season with more than $115,000 and appears to be at the top of his game.

He's finished fourth or better seven times this season and, more importantly, has played steadily for several weeks.

Some other top challengers include South African Gary Player, England's Tony Jacklin, the U.S. Open title-holder who is making his first start in five weeks, Masters king Charles Coody, defending champion Tommy Aaron and such two-time winners this season as J.C. Snead and Tom Shaw.

Also on hand are always-dangerous Frank Beard and Dave Hill, the controversial player who last week filed a $1 million damage suit against the PGA and the Tournament Players Division.

Among the missing in the 150-man field are Arnold Palmer, Billy Casper and $100,000 winner Miller Barber.

Hogs, Longhorns and Texas Tech Favored In S.W. Conference

By DENNE H. FREEMAN

Associated Press Sports Writer

DALLAS (AP) — Changes in playing personnel and coaches could propel the 1971 Southwest Conference chase into one of its wildest campaigns ever.

Even Texas, which has won 20 consecutive SWC games, could experience an occasional sinking spell because of a mass infusion of sophomores.

As Longhorn Coach Darrell Royal puts it: "We're replacing quality seniors with quality sophomores, but that isn't a fair swap. We could be starting as many as nine sophomores next fall."

Of course, Rice and Texas Christian will field teams under new head coaches Bill Peterson and Jim Pittman, respectively. This will give both the Owls and Horned Frogs a decided unpredictable quality the first year.

Peterson says, "Our quarterbacks' adjustment to our system and a lack of depth at some sports are our principal problems. Our running ability, fine morale and hitting and improvement this spring in the offensive line were all encouraging signs."

Pittman says "We have good depth at quarterback and both receiver positions, but we're hurting in the offensive line. Defensively, there are some questions, but I'll guarantee you one thing—we'll hit people."

In material compiled by SWC information director Bill Morgan from the nine sports information directors, the league teams assessed their positions after spring training.

Again, it appears to be a gun-fight between Texas, Arkansas and Texas Tech. Outside those three it's pick your own darkness.

Texas loses some hosses—fullback Steve Worster, split end Cotton Speyer, tight end Deryl Comer, offensive tackle Bobby Wuensch, defensive end and Bill Atassis, and linebacker Scott Henderson, but returns 33 lettermen—nine of them starters.

"I can't see us being as good a football team because of the inexperience," says Royal "I've been more than happy with our freshman team. The talent off our freshman team is a little better than I thought it was, but I know that our senior class isn't even close to our senior class of a year ago."

Royal adds, "Our backfield will be the quickest we've had at Texas."

Royal says "This is the strongest opening schedule (UCLA, Texas Tech, Oregon, Oklahoma, Arkansas) we've had at Texas. This, along with our youth and inexperience, gives me concern. The things that give me comfort about next fall are that we have some talent and we have some enthusiasm."

The Razorbacks too suffered heavily through graduation. Bill Montgomery, Chuck Dicus, Bill Burnett, Bruce James and Rick Kersey left the Ozarks.

Arkansas returns 32 lettermen, including nine starters. One lettermen is the great hope of the Arkansas fans—rifle-armed quarterback Joe Ferguson, who hit 48 of 86 passes for 744 yards and four touchdowns in a relief role as a sophomore. Sophomore Dickie Morton adds luster to excellent runners Jon Richardson and Russ Garber.

"Inexperience will be a problem for us," says Coach Frank Broyles. "We're young both ways."

Broyles says "We didn't get everything done we had hopes to accomplish in the spring... We're in pretty good shape with our receivers and at fullback, but we have a lot of holes to fill everywhere else."

Field goal kicking isn't one of the problems. Arkansas returns Bill McClard who established a modern NCAA field goal record with a 60-yarder against SMU. Texas Tech presents the biggest challenge to the Texas-Arkansas dominance.

Second-year Coach Jim Carlen is expected to field a sizzling offensive team, but the defense is suspect.

Carlen says "We should be improved from an offensive standpoint. However, our defensive line is way below last year. We are going to need steady improvement there. We don't have the super running back but we do have several good runners. I'm expecting both Miles Langehennig and Doug McCutchen to have a good year."

Aluminum Ball Bats Are Not In

By JEFFREY MILLS
Associated Press Writer
LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Modern technology is taking a swing at the old trademark of the baseball game—the crack of the bat.

A new aluminum bat is making a metallic clang when it connects with a baseball in some Little League parks and—at least in practice—on some college diamonds. Proponents of the aluminum bats turn a deaf ear to the clang and point out that aluminum bats will not break.

But officials at Hillerich and Bradsby—bat manufacturers here since 1884—are convinced that wooden bats are not about to go out of style, at least not in the major leagues.

"We can make bats exactly the way a major leaguer wants them," says Jack McGrath, vice president for advertising. "But the cost of producing aluminum bats, setting up dies for all of those infinite number of models, would be prohibitive."

"I can't fathom how a baseball player—sensitive to the feel and shape of wood—could be regimented into one or just a few metal models." Most aluminum bats are 34 inches and 39 to 42 ounces.

Backers of the aluminum bat say it is far more economical. UCLA coach Art Reichle estimates his team breaks more than 40 dozen bats a season. The aluminum bat—though it costs $15, compared to $3 for a wooden bat—is reputedly unbreakable, thus making it cheaper over the long run.

Hillerich and Bradsby is making some of the brightly-colored aluminum bats but McGrath says, "You can't mention our aluminum bat production in the same breath with our wood."

McGrath says the firm is "trying to keep an open mind about the new aluminum bats." But the firm's focus has always been on wood since the time it was making wooden lawn bowling equipment more than a century ago.

Bob Wissler Big Gun for Travelers

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Bob Wissler smashed two homers and drove in five runs to carry the Arkansas Travelers to a 7-1 victory over the Savannah Braves here Tuesday night.

George Greer came up with a single home run with a man on to provide the other two Traveler runs.

Wissler's first homer came in the fifth after Don Kirkland had doubled and been sacrificed to third by Phil Knuckles. His second came in the sixth with Milt Ramirez and Ken Reitz on base.

Knuckles came up with a solid pitching effort and went all the way to pick up the victory.

Arkansas now leads second-place Memphis by two games in the Central Division of the Dixie Association. Memphis was shutout 3-0 by Asheville Tuesday night.

In other Dixie action, Amarillo drilled Albuquerque 6, 1-Charlotte nicked Montgomery 3-2, Jacksonville tripped Birmingham 7-6, Shreveport nipped Columbus 4-3 and Dallas-Fort Worth defeated San Antonio 2-1.

Mill Reef Favored 7-2 for Derby Day

EPSOM, England (AP) — All the color of a 192-year-old tradition was set up on Epsom Downs today as race fans got ready to cheer American-owned Mill Reef to victory in the Derby.

Tipsters, fortune tellers and sidishows—the features that have made Derby Day fun for the British ever since 1780—were there as usual.

Only the prospects of the race itself were slightly different. Mill Reef, owned by Pittsburgh business executive Paul Mellon, was rated the strongest favorite in years.

Tuesday night, bookies made Mill Reef 7 to 2. The Parson 17 to 2, Millenium 11 to 1, Bourbon 12 to 1, Lombardo 14 to 1 and Linden Tree 16 to 1.

Prefontaine Challenge to Jim Ryun

Billy Backus Favored to Keep Crown

By BOB MYERS
Associated Press Sports Writer
LOS ANGELES (AP) — Billy Backus, the current custodian of the world welterweight boxing crown, is a decided underdog to continue wearing the chapeau he won from Jose Napoles in Syracuse, N.Y., last Dec. 3—a fact that doesn't seem to disturb him.

As a relatively unknown journeyman ringster in New England, the 27-year-old Backus was an overwhelming underdog against the champion from Mexico City. But thanks to several bad eye cuts inflicted on Napoles, the fight was stopped in the fourth round and Backus was acclaimed as the champion of the 147-pound class.

The rematch is slated for Friday night in the Forum, 15 rounds or less. Few think it will go 15.

"I've never predicted the outcome of one of my fights and I'm not going to start now," Backus reiterated today.

Backus is a southpaw. He's stocky, several inches shorter than the 31-year-old ex-champion. He is not fancy but he is aggressive. He took some of Jose's best shots—and some of Jose's best shots have cooled off 41 opponents—and plodded in for more.

"He never backed off," said his manager, Tony Graziano, a fact which films of the brawl certify.

Outside the ring, Backus, married and the father of two youngsters and nephew of his trainer, ex-champion Carmen Basilio, is mild mannered and wears glasses.

Asked if winning the prestigious title had changed his life style much, he said, "Oh, some, I guess. But it's been nice, the prestige, invitations to appear at dinners, all the things that go with a championship."

"But," he added with a grin, "I still wear the same size hat."

Only the prospects of the race itself were slightly different. Mill Reef, owned by Pittsburgh business executive Paul Mellon, was rated the strongest favorite in years.

Tuesday night, bookies made Mill Reef 7 to 2. The Parson 17 to 2, Millenium 11 to 1, Bourbon 12 to 1, Lombardo 14 to 1 and Linden Tree 16 to 1.

Oregon Track Club, is being held in conjunction with the National AAU Marathon in which Bob Fitts of Wisconsin will be aiming to defend his title in the 26-mile, 385-yard event.

It will be the first meeting between Ryun, who set the world mark of 3:51.1 four years ago, and Prefontaine, the 20-year-old sophomore who is the NCAA 3-mile and cross-country champion.

The dual attraction is expected to lure a sellout crowd of 10,500 to the University of Oregon campus.

"His potential is tremendous, particularly in the 3-and 6-mile," Ryun said of Prefontaine. "From what I have seen of him, I think his best days are still ahead of him. Don't get me wrong, though. He's real tough now."

Prefontaine has just as much respect for Ryun, the former Kansas standout who moved to Eugene in February and launched a comeback after an 18-month layoff.

"He's one of the best," Prefontaine said of Ryun, who just turned 24. "He's going to get a lot faster, a lot stronger."

Prefontaine, who won both the mile and three-mile in the Pacific-8 championships May 22, says he has "never worked out much for the mile. I need more speed." His lifetime best is 3:57.4, which he ran at last year's Twilight Meet. He won the conference title in 4:01.5 but said later his feet hurt or he could easily have cracked the four-minute barrier.

For Ryun it will be a chance to rebound from a narrow defeat by Villanova's Marty Liguori, 3:54.6 to 3:56.4, in the Martin Luther King Games May 16 in Philadelphia.

Action Is Mixed in Vietnam

SAIGON (AP) — Hundreds of U.S. bombers and helicopter gunships today attacked troops of three North Vietnamese divisions spread across eastern Cambodia. The heaviest strikes hit the enemy division that captured the Snoul rubber plantation from South Vietnamese forces Monday.

Delayed reports told of more casualties among the South Vietnamese forces who retreated Monday from Snoul, about 90 miles north of Saigon and 10 miles from the border. The Saigon command announced that 74 of its troops were missing in action; earlier field reports said more than 200 troops were killed or wounded as they fought their way out of the plantation town.

The number of missions flown today was not yet available. But the U.S. Command reported about 250 helicopter gunship missions and about 45 fighter-bomber missions flown in eastern Cambodia Tuesday in support of South Vietnamese forces.

June 'Savings & Loan' Month in State

Hope Federal Savings & Loan Association is one of 62 such institutions in Arkansas which this month will be observing the "Miracle of the Big Billion", it was announced today by Fred O. Ellis, president of the local institution.

The Hope association, Mr. Ellis pointed out, will join the other 61 insured associations of Arkansas in a series of newspaper, radio and television campaigns depicting the growth of the industry throughout Arkansas.

Governor Bumpers today was to proclaim the month of June as "Savings and Loan Month."

It was in 1933, in the middle of the boll-weevil depression, that Congress passed legislation which brought into being the Federal Home Loan Bank system and the Federal Savings & Loan Insurance Corporation, the primary purpose of which was to help people save money, buy homes, improve the economy and their communities.

Mr. Ellis went on to say that the Hope Association was organized in 1934 and two of the charter members, J.P. Duffie and Attorney Albert Graves, still serve as officers and directors of the local institution.

Savings & Loan Associations enjoyed their most spectacular gains in Arkansas during the decade of the 60's as evidenced by the fact that Savings & Loan Associations financed more than 120,000 Arkansas families who became home owners.

The Hope Association, Mr. Ellis concluded, also enjoyed its greatest growth during this period, assets jumping from slightly more than two million dollars in 1963 to the current figure of more than six and a half million dollars.

The North Vietnamese-Viet Cong 5th, 7th and 9th Divisions were reported spread along Highway 7 to Kompong Cham and beyond on the western side of the Mekong River. Some troops of the 9th Division were reported to have moved 50 miles to the southwest, to an area 18 miles east of Phnom Penh, where they battled hand-to-hand with Cambodian troops trained by U.S. Special Forces in South Vietnam.

In South Vietnam, enemy forces ambushed a U.S. convoy near the demilitarized zone and a unit of the 101st Airborne Division midway between Hue and Da Nang. The U.S. Command said two Americans were killed, 10 were wounded and three armored personnel carriers were knocked out. Two enemy were reported killed.

The command also reported the loss of three helicopters, with nine Americans killed and one wounded. Seven were killed in a crash 24 miles north of Saigon; the cause was not known.

Associated Press correspondent Robin Mannoock reported from Phnom Penh that a bitter struggle is under way for control of the high ground east of the Cambodian capital before most of the region is flooded by monsoon rains.

Tough Capital Police Get Nixon Nod

By FRANK CORMIER
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon says any new efforts by antiwar demonstrators to disrupt the government should be met by the same police tactics used here last month.

He told a news conference Tuesday night the thousands of protesters who took part in the May 3-6 "Mayday" protests were "vandals and hoodlums and lawbreakers" whose rights nonetheless were protected.

Topics during the news conference covered a wide range but the questioning about police tactics during the protests was perhaps the most persistent Nixon has faced.

He told the reporters and nationwide television and radio audience the tactics used by Washington police should be a model in any future episodes.

In other areas during the 30-minute session, the President said:

—The administration soon will announce a four-front "national offensive" against drug abuse and narcotics addiction. —Politics is something he won't talk about at news conferences because, in his view, it is not a proper forum.

—Easing curbs on trade with China will be announced June 10 and a policy regarding a seat in the United Nations for the Peking government will be formulated in about six weeks.

—No foreign travels are planned in the near future but the President will pack his bags if it becomes necessary to promote an East-West troop cutback in Europe or an American-Soviet accord on arms limitations.

The President said the United States will consider negotiating with the Soviet Union on mutual troop reductions in Europe after Washington has consulted with Atlantic Alliance leaders.

—Any agreement with the Soviet Union on limiting offensive weapons might be handled first as an understanding, rather than as a treaty requiring Senate consideration.

But any agreement curtailing antiballistic missiles—defensive weapons—would be a much simpler matter and might be subject to a treaty, Nixon said.

—The administration will issue next week a paper outlining its position on pushing for desegregated public housing. He disagreed with a Civil Rights Commission report questioning whether the nation is committed to equal rights.

"I don't think they should question the sincerity of the great majority of the American people on this issue, particularly in view of the great progress that has been made," the President said.

The questions on the May demonstration came as close as many observers could recall to a running confrontation between the President and inquiring reporters.

Signing were outfielder David Beckham of Westark Junior College at Fort Smith and infielder Randy Jones of Rogers High School.

Beckman, a 155-pound outfielder hit .356 for the Lions in 36 games this spring. Jones, a pitcher and shortstop, is hitting .350 for the Rogers American Legion Team.
